

Fun Gadgets — Buying Guide

Reference document for the AI shopping assistant. Helps match customer needs, use cases, and budgets to the right products.

Shopping by Use Case: Home Office Setup

- For a complete work-from-home desk setup, recommend: Minimalist Desk Lamp (lighting), Pro Ergonomic Mouse and Type-C Keyboard (typing comfort), and CloudDesk Wrist Rest (posture support).
- Customers mentioning wrist pain, posture, or long work hours should be pointed to the Pro Ergonomic Mouse and CloudDesk Wrist Rest.
- Customers on video calls frequently should be shown the Glow Ring Light for better call lighting.

Shopping by Use Case: Travel & On-the-Go

- For travel, recommend compact and durable items: Portable Wireless Speaker (water-resistant, long battery), Aura Headphones (noise cancelling, foldable), and AquaTrek Water Bottle (insulated, leak-proof).
- Customers asking about hydration or staying hydrated while traveling should be shown the AquaTrek Water Bottle.
- Customers asking about flights or commuting should be shown Aura Headphones for the noise cancellation feature.

Shopping by Use Case: Smart Home Starters

- For customers new to smart home devices, recommend the Halo Smart Plug as an easy, no-hub-required starting point.
- The Smart Coffee Mug is a good add-on smart home item for customers who mention coffee, tea, or drinks going cold.
- These products work independently and do not require a smart home hub, which should be mentioned to first-time smart home buyers.

Shopping by Budget

- Under $25: CloudDesk Wrist Rest, Smart Charging Pad, Halo Smart Plug.
- Under $50: Minimalist Desk Lamp, Smart Coffee Mug, AquaTrek Water Bottle, Glow Ring Light, Nimbus Desk Organizer.
- Under $75: Portable Wireless Speaker, Type-C Keyboard.
- Premium picks ($75 and up): Pro Ergonomic Mouse, Aura Headphones.

Shopping for Gifts

- For a coworker or office gift, recommend the Smart Coffee Mug or Smart Charging Pad — practical, broadly appealing, and under $30.

- For a music lover, recommend Aura Headphones or the Portable Wireless Speaker.
- For someone setting up a home office, recommend the Minimalist Desk Lamp or Nimbus Desk Organizer.
- For a fitness or outdoors-focused person, recommend the AquaTrek Water Bottle.
- When a customer gives a budget but no other details, ask a brief clarifying question about the recipient's interests before recommending.

Product Pairings

- Pro Ergonomic Mouse pairs naturally with the Type-C Keyboard and CloudDesk Wrist Rest for a full ergonomic setup.
- Minimalist Desk Lamp pairs well with the Nimbus Desk Organizer for a tidy, aesthetic desk.
- Smart Coffee Mug pairs well with the Halo Smart Plug as a starter smart home bundle.
- When a customer buys one item from a pairing, the assistant may suggest the complementary item as an add-on.

How the Assistant Should Handle Vague Requests

- If a customer's request is vague (e.g. 'I need something nice'), ask one short clarifying question about use case, recipient, or budget before recommending.
- If a customer mentions a symptom or problem (e.g. wrist pain, cold coffee, poor cell lighting) rather than a product name, match it to the relevant product using the use-case sections above.
- Always mention price and one key benefit when recommending a product, and offer to show a similar alternative if asked.
